

Keep Changing The World

Mikeschair

Something here is wrong
There are children without homes
And we just move along
To take care of our own
There's so much suffering
Just outside our doors
A cry so deafening
That we just can't ignore

To all the people who are fighting for the broken
All the people who keep holding onto love
All the people who are reaching for the lonely
Keep changing the world

Take a look around
Before the sun goes out
What's lost can still be found
It's not too late now

It only takes one spark
To make the fire burn
So reach inside your heart
And let this be the start

I see you changing the world!
Every boy
Every girl
Step up!

I see the sun coming up
It's a brighter day
Let's show the world that love is a better way
So lend a hand join the fight
'Cause time is ticking away (2x)
