

Open Eyes

Mikey Wax

If it's in your heart tonight won't you let it off your mind if it's in your soul
then let the feeling show

And if you step outside your head you'd know where to begin again so if it's in your heart
Just let the feelings go

This time we've got to stay awake and let it all go down
this time it can not wait

Open Eyes
through this night
but we both already know that our minds will compromise and see no reason to let go And we'll just hold on to what we know cause it's better than being alone

So if it's in your heart tonight it doesn't matter wrong or right if it's in your soul then let the feeling show I know that there's no easy way to say the things you need to say so if it's in your heart

This time we've got to stay awake
and let it all go down
this time it cannot wait

Open Eyes
through this night
that our minds will compromise
And we'll just hold on to what we know
cause it's better than being alone I don't want to be on my own without your love

Here we lay
With open Eyes
through this night
And we'll just hold on to what we know
cause it's better than being alone No I don't want to be on my own without your love

won't you let it off your mind

if it's in your soul
then let the feelings go
