

Remember

Mikey Wax

Sunshine is filling the air again
The walls that have held me in have finally opened up for love to begin

Remember
The way that it used to feel
The burn in my heart reminds me the wounds from old loves have healed
I'm ready to start again

In some ways
I couldn't be more prepared the heartache that brought me here has taught me it's all okay there's nothing to fear

the way that it used to be
the burn in my heart reminds me there's love that I've yet to see
I'm ready to start again

Remember
there's love in your heart
remember
it's never too late to start
remember
that love in your heart is real
I'm ready to start again
I'm ready to start again
