

The Calm

Mikey Wax

starless skies as rain falls tonight
hits her skin
now before you begin
say what you will but i love you still
the calm slowly kills
but I love you still, love you still

cold dark nights
in blankets we lay
not a sound was heard
just the wind and the birds

oh say what you will
but i'll love still
the calm slowly kills
but i'll love you still love you still my darling though we're falling

with no end in sight
and the wind is blowing
the storm is growing
but keep on holding tight

say what you will
but i love you still
love you still, oh oh
