Place For Us

Mikky Ekko

There is a wall of silence in our way What's quiet in the voices I cannot say Through all the walls I fought in my mind And your eyes are the only refuge I find

So we moved under the spotlight And never thought about the price we'd pay When all the world around us slipped away

Hey, is there a place for us Where flames flicker and wave for us And we can see the future and the dreams it's made of Hey, is there a place A place for us

A place for us

Well I'm not afraid to die here But damned if I go on living a lie here

So long we revelled in the spotlight And never think about the price we'd pay When all the world around us slipped away

Hey, is there a place for us Where flames flicker and wave for us And we can see the future and the dreams it's made of Hey, is there a place A place for us

A place for us

Now from the streets we run Eyes wild like the sun We are the new creators We are the chosen ones

And as the city blazes You hear a voice that you can trust Singing is this the place for us

Hey, is there a place for us Where flames flicker and wave for us And we can see the future and the dreams it's made of Hey, is there a place A place for us

A place for us A place for us A place for us A place for us
