

Time

Mikky Ekko

Well the streets are empty where we used to run
And the cars are all on fire
Yeah we fall like leaves in the garden of Eden, Eden

Now remember how it felt being in the sun
When I heard the ancient choir
In the dead of night like an angel singing, singing

Hey, time doesn't love you anymore
But I'm still knocking at your door
Honey we can run forever
If forever's what's in store
Oh time to take me home

On a tree in the garden I carved your name
In a word that spelled desire
Like an ocean deep where the waters heaving, heaving
And your love pours down like a waterfall
And I can't escape the tide
Here's my hand baby, take it or leave it, leave it

'Cause time doesn't love you anymore
But I'm still knocking at your door
Honey we can run forever
If forever's what's in store
Oh time to take me home, home, home

Now we're too young to recognize that nothing stays the same
Promise I won't be the one to blame

'Cause time doesn't love you anymore
But I'm still knocking at your door
Honey we can run forever
If forever's what's in store
Oh, time doesn't love you like I love you
So take me home, home

Let me hear you say, Let me hear say
