

Fire in My Heart

Miles Kane

Spiral out of control
On my way back home
Now the night is done
And the day is to come

Near enough to the truth
I believe it's living proof
About the games people play

What else can a poor boy do
To live his whole life reckless and blue?
And illusions in the dark
Only add more fire in my heart
More fire in my heart

There's a light in the sky
There's a sign that waves goodbye
Still taking it, Still faking it back
In the circles again
It reminds me of way back when
Still breaking it, still chasing it back

What else can a poor boy do
To live his whole life reckless and blue?
And illusions in the dark
Only add more fire in my heart

After all that we've been through
I can't help myself from loving you
And illusions in the dark
Only add more fire in my heart
More fire in my heart [3x]
