

You think you're cool 'cause you know every girl in town
But you don't do 'cause when you're out at night they don't look your way

You've got all that trendy shit and a jolly air for brains
And you are busy to watch out for that ugly girl you know

You think girls like that will ruin your style
'Cause a perfect guy like you need something more
You're so cool, you're so cool, you've got everything a girl desires
You're so cool, you're so cool, with a perfect butt you can go far

You're telling me that I am thinking way too small to understand
That you have reached your goals and I am far away
And all the things you say that you know I don't want to hear
So throw your empty words away and listen to what I say

I'm not jealous in all the lies you tell
Just take it easy you might end up in hell

You're so cool, you're so cool
You've got everything a girl desires
You're so cool, you're so cool
With a perfect butt you can go far

You're so perfect, you've got everything
And you are way too cool
To understand that you are out of line

She said so, she said so, you've got everything a girl desires
She said so, she said so, with a perfect butt you can go far

You're so cool, you're so cool, you've got everything a girl desires
You're so cool, you're so cool, with a perfect butt you can go far
You're so cool, you're so cool, you've got everything a girl desires
You're so cool, you're so cool, with a perfect butt you can go far

You're so cool, you're so cool, you're so cool, you're so cool
