

On your knees cause you're not wanted, your life is a chaos and you wonder will it ever end, and all these feelings they're not real, keep you down just the way it's planned out today, today you've lost your way.

People grin, behind your back they are talking, they are say you're doing it the wrong way once again all these relations you belived in seem to brake up and it drives you crazy.

Anyday you'll feel ok, your shoes will get you anywhere just be patient cause soon you'll have your fun.

Staying in, hide away from problems, imagination's playing games with you again, it's no illusion, it's just confusion, but when the fog's gone you'll come out strong, there's no time to be feeling down.