

House of Blend

Millencolin

I haven't much to say today because the nowhere album's on thinking too much about tomorrow and the inspiration's gone the good times the bad times seem to be the same when I'm doing something my mind is always somewhere else all the talk about the one day plan hasn't got to me only my memories can make me feel free.

Anything I can do anything in the house of blend is where I find my energy

I'm too occupied with my own dreams a numskull in a bed you tried to disappoint me with the things you said but not now I'm busy maybe in a month wake me up and fill my empty mind with doubts.

Give me something to hate 'cause I can't go on hating me. give me someone to blame and tell me there's nothing wrong with me eject me if you can reject me if I come again consciousley I will run into more fun.
