

Junkie for Success

Millencolin

Hey you, where you gonna heat the war
Finding your religion an exhibition hole
Like a
Never gonna reach that far

I must confess you were a junkie for success
You remind me of the fragile child
While you trying to impress
Your desperate nature's growing wild

There is always one thing on your mind
Always simple progress never fall behind
Like an
And a lie like that is gonna cost
More than your stress

I must confess you were a junkie for success
You remind me of the fragile child
While you trying to impress
Your desperate nature's growing wild
Your desperate nature's growing wild

Come on now, rewind the track
Call me
Slow down now before you cry
Once in a while we all fail

Come on now, rewind the track
Call me
Slow down now before you cry
Once in a while we all fail

While you trying to impress
Yeah

You were a junkie for success
You remind me of the fragile child
While you trying to impress
Your desperate nature's growing wild

You're desperately growing wild
Desperately growing wild
You remind me of the fragile child
Your desperate nature's growing wild
