

Mind The Mice

Millencolin

Mind the mice where you stand
Make sure you have your act all planned
Think it twice and again
There will be hell if you can't explain

You've been out, you've been cruel
You've been a self indulgent fool
There's no doubt, you've done wrong
And now you just try to play along

So pick yourself up now and set things straight
Though I know you're full of doubt, you just gotta let it out
And pick yourself up now before it's too late
If you wanna keep that ring, if she ever meant a thing
Don't lie

Mind the mice where you walk
Coz you'll regret it all around the clock
It's the price that you pay
[?] will surely stay

She don't know where you've been
But the ice you're on is getting thin
She don't know what you've done
But she will get it in the longer run

So pick yourself up now and set things straight
Though I know you're full of doubt, you just gotta let it out
And pick yourself up now before it's too late
If you wanna keep that ring, if she ever meant a thing
Don't lie

No don't lie

Oh you've still got it all boy
In the palm of your hand
If you get the chance you will lose it all
With your head stuck in the sand
Stuck in the sand

Oh you've still got it all boy
Don't throw it all away
It's about time to get your head out now
If you want her to stay

So pick yourself up now and set things straight
Though I know you're full of doubt, you just gotta let it out
And pick yourself up now before it's too late
If you wanna keep that ring, if she ever meant a thing
Don't lie

No don't lie
