Do you know about the Einstein crew? Do you know what they do? They're always drinking never thinking just looking for someone they can take and beat down they say they hate that guy but when i ask howcome they don't know why they're so damn full of hate but do you think they're smart enough to hate themselves too? So now you got your crew behind and behind you even left your mind come on and step to me. Kick me and I'll kiss your back, after three six packs, hope it feels all right, before I get the chance to ask you why you're so messed up do you know about the Einstein crew? I hope you do because they hate you too next they'll be kicking you just because you're smarter then their whole crew some of them were bugging me when I asked them about the history do you really believe these guys they're stereotypes so stereotype but who am I to say who am I to judge who would ever listen to a guy called Fudge. The Einstein crew I could be your role model, one or two got their own pro model, we feel sorry for you, you're one big problem and some day you'll be sorry too.
