

Everything Here Will Be Fine

Mindy Smith

Go ahead mother He's calling you home
You can't stay here forever it's time you moved on
Don't worry none
Everything here will be fine
Everything here is all right

Your children are stronger than they even know
And some will take longer letting you go
Don't worry none
Everything here will be fine
Everything here is all right

My sisters and brother we will miss you it's true
We'll have to have faith that we'll be with you soon

Go ahead mother the angels need you
To sing to praise to the Father melodic and true
Don't worry none
Everything here will be fine
Everything here will be fine
Everything here is all right
