Falling

Mindy Smith

It seems like Out of nowhere I'm coming apart Nothing could've saved me You went straight for my heart When I've almost had enough Something about you draws me back again

Something about you draws me back agai When I've almost given up Something about you pulls me in And we're falling

Feels like I am reaching Tryin' to hold on to you And I know that There's still hope here And I know you'll come through

When I've almost had enough Something about you draws me back again When I've almost given up Something about you pulls me in And we're falling

When I've almost had enough When I've almost given up We start falling And we're falling
