Ministry of Magic

How could I be more than just an orphan?
More than just a burden without a home?
But there's no hope in hoping in the future.
I learned that a long time, a long time ago.

Keep my head down, don't look up for nothin'.
I'm on my own, alone in this world.

So alone.

Today I met a man who's name was Albus,
He told me that I was more than a boy,
He said I could learn to be a wizard,
That I could see the magic, the wonder out there.

Soon I'll go to a place that he called Hogwarts,
Soon I'll be with kids, kids just like me.

I'm not alone.

I'll be a wizard
I'll be a hero
More than just a boy
Wanting more than just a home

I'll witness wonders
Never ceasing
So much more than I
Could imagine with my mind

He said I could learn to be a wizard,
That I could see the magic, the wonder out there.
Soon I'll go to a place that he called Hogwarts,
I'm not alone.

I'll be a wizard
I'll be a hero
More than just a boy
Wanting more than just a home

I'll witness wonders
Never ceasing
So much more than I
Could imagine with my mind

I'll have a family
Someone that loves me
Mother, Father, Son
Just like everyone

I'm not a burden
Not good for nothin'.
I am "The Boy Who Lived."
The one to save the world.

I'll be a wizard
I'll be a hero
So much more than I
Could imagine with my mind

I'm not a burden
Not good for nothin'.
I am "The Boy Who Lived."
I am "The Boy Who Lived."
The one to save the world.

More than just a burden without a home
He told me that I was more than a boy
