

Except You

Minuit

I never broke anything I had,
I never had anything I broke,
except you, except you

I never kept anything I stole,
I never stole anything I kept,
except you, except you

I never do anything I like I never like anything I do I never do anything that's right
I never do anything

I never have anything I want I never want anything I have
Except you, except you

I never own anything I like I never like anything I own
I have no-one I can call my own, except you

I never see anything I like I never like anything I see I never see anything but me Well I'd like to see you sometime

I never say anything I mean I never mean anything I say I never say anything that's true
This is what I say to you

I never broke anything I had,
I never had anything I broke,
except you, except you

I never kept anything I stole,
I never stole anything I kept,
except you, except you

Oh I have not kept anything, anything now hear me
x4

Oh I have not kept anything,
anything now hear me
x2
Anything...
