

Dog Park

Minus the Bear

Out here we don't hear anything
But the clicking of the rain against the leaves
And the way each other breathes
But you've got to listen

Make this home
We've never, we never had one

Out here we turn out all the lights
And sit inside looking out and the bay's still
Yes she's wearing the night's expression
She you've got to feel it

Make this home
We've never, we never had one
We've never, we never had one
So stop calling this a vacation

We're just here for two nights
We're just here for two nights
We're just here for two nights

Count the beats of your heart
And no city streets to break up cars
We can lie here, we can lie here
We can lie here

We want no one and no one comes
Every song plays just for us
And we want no one and no one comes
We got it

Make this home
We've never, we never had one
We've never, we never had one
So stop calling this a vacation

Make this home
We've never, we never had one
We've never, we never had one
So stop calling this a vacation
