

Invisible

Minus the Bear

Have you ever told the whole truth?
Little lies, little lies, little lies, little lies
It's part of being human
It's part of believing in the illusion of yourself
Little lies
The foundation that you built yourself on
It's all gonna' fall
If there's any justice at all

All the stone you laid
Avalanche behind you
I know how long it's been
No, you're not invisible
You're not invisible

You're drinking in solitude
All the lies, all the lies, all the lies, all the lies
In a bar where no one knows you
There's no one to help you when you don't want to help yourself
But you might
The weight is gonna' bring you down
And you're gonna fall
As we all keep going up

All the stone you laid
Avalanche behind you
I know how long it's been
No, you're not invisible
You're not invisible

All the stone you laid
Avalanche behind you
I know how long it's been
No, you're not invisible
You're not invisible

You're not invisible
You're not invisible
