

Let's Play Clowns

Minus the Bear

Before we leave home, our night is still
As we lay on the bed fully dressed
This is a new thing and we both deserve this
One night with no one

It's rare to feel this expensive
But next to a girl like her
It's impossible not to
In this house, in this town

Before we leave home, we are alone
And now new thoughts come
If the car won't start, would it be better if it did?
But I know it will, yeah, I know it will

And this we'll lose
A moon to look to
From inside out
Without the lights on

It's rare to feel this expensive
But next to a girl like her
It's impossible not to
In this house, in this town

It's still early, a bright 10:30
And we speed through the evening
