

Steel and Blood

Minus the Bear

I need your eyes for our connection
Every blink you give away I lose
You gave it free, it's gone
Spinning off in to space alone
And the bourbons full at this point
Crack the seal and spin the top away
Had a purpose for it this point
Come on baby, erase it with me

Two become one
Cacophony of a car crash
Steel and Blood, and it's over with the silence

I need your eyes to stay connected
Keep on looking into mine
Don't move, don't speak, don't speak
Everything's gonna be fine
And the bourbon's on the pavement
Shattered bottle in the front seat
And it's broken on the pavement
Come on baby, don't slip away

Two become one
Cacophony of a car crash
Steel and Blood, and it's over with the silence

She's bleeding out, call an ambulance
These shaking hands are soaked in red
I'll be by your bedside, when you come to
Come to me
I'll be by your bedside, when you come to
Come to me
I'll be by your bedside
Come to me
I'll be by your bedside
Come to me
I'll be by your bedside
Come to me
I'll be by your bedside
Come to me

Two become one
Cacophony of a car crash
Steel and Blood, and it's over with the silence

Two become one
Cacophony of a car crash
Steel and Blood, and it's over with the silence
