

Tame Beasts

Minus the Bear

It's hard to think, it's hard to think
We're all tame beasts taken out of the wild
We smoke and drink, we smoke and drink
To escape concrete, to get loved like a child
We swing blank sheets, we swing blank sheets
We write so cheap and it works for a while
We skip heart beats, we skip heart beats
We don't know fun since we fell out of style

Where do we go, where do we lose ourselves?

It feels like the world is ending
We can't break away to an open space
With the death of us impending
We can't break away to an open space

We're on the brink, we're on the brink
Beyond critique and we don't reconcile
We're out of sync, we're out of sync
We think in screams, we've been drained for a while
Don't stop to blink, don't stop to blink
We've dug to deep and we've drowned in denial
We skip heart beats, we skip heart beats
This reckless love should fall out of style

Where do we go, where do we lose ourselves?

It feels like the world is ending
We can't break away to an open space
With the death of us impending
We can't break away to an open space

It's hard to think we're all tame beasts taken out of the wild
We smoke and drink to escape concrete, to get loved like a child

It feels like the world is ending
We can't break away, we can't break away
With the death of us impending
We can't break away to an open space

If you saw the ending (why'd you break away)
Would you stop pretending (to an open space)
If you saw the ending (why'd you break away)
Would you stop pretending (to an open space)
