The Fix

A swimming pool with no bodies Is a problem that we can fix He dropped his clothes on me Chase lounge and asked "Are you gonna come in?" And in the night, the only light Was the glow of the surface As we slid in The rest of them Continue their talking And drinking They'll never notice us

So this is the difference between Living and not living These are just bodies We have a purpose And the gravity Pulling us from them to we

The distance between our bodies Is a problem that we can fix They moved slow through the current And found their bodies touching Their heads to pull reminder For some kind of kiss As he slides in The rest of them Continue their talking And drinking

So this is the difference between Living and not living These are just bodies We have a purpose And the gravity Pulling us from them to we (2x)
