

The Struggle

Minutemen

My father and his family
Struggled through history
Maintaining their sanity
Rapped in chains
Called prosperity
My sons who might be the last
Well excel the standards of the working man
And tear down the barrier
That separates the caste