Luminary

Misery Signals

Let shine the dimmest light I barely see you through the fog th at will not lift Show yourself the way I knew you With no fear of being pulled by the undertow Into gaping holes You were some one I believed in Few return the same men as they left

You led me through hell my constant north You were someone I be lieved in

To keep you in the sky, untouchable All that they promised you will drag you under To keep you in the sky, untouchable All that they promised you will drag you down under the sea

Stay what you are to me I'm losing you A lantern going dark

To keep you in the sky, untouchable All that they promised you will drag you under True colors painted over You were someone I believed in

As they lower the veil The stars no longer guide us Deserted by ghosts of virtue Scraping the bottom
