

I Want To Make Him Want

Misha

I want to make him want
I want to make him want
To spend his life with me
I want to make him want

I want to make him shake his head when I walk
I want to astonish him with my voice when I talk
Oh, I want to make him shake his head
Like he cannot believe
I want to make him hold his breath
See no one else but me

Don't need to be taken out
For fancy dinners every other night
Don't need them shopping sprees
No limousines
No need for them fancy clothes
No diamond rings
Just want to be beautiful in his eyes and real

I want to make him want
To share his time with me
Want to spend his life with me
I want to make him want
To share his time with me
Mmm...

I want to make him want
To share his time with me
Want to spend his life with me
I want to make him want
To share his time with me

We could be sitting on the river bank
Thinking life's not all that bad
Holding close in the wind
Then he takes me home to sleep

Let's watch a movie together
That's what I want
Or take a walk, hold hands, make plans
Reactions spontaneous
He makes me laugh
That's what makes our lives longer
Not the glitter, not the cash

I want to make him want
To share his time with me
Want to spend his life with me
I want to make him want
To share his time with me
(The baby boy is mine)
I want to make him want
Want to spend his life with me
(We could spend a life together...)

I want to make him want
Want to spend his life with me
To share his time with me
(The baby boy is mine)
I want to make him want

Red wine, few candles
A few good friends around
What the hell compares to that
How simply beautiful life can get
(What the hell compares to that)
What a beautiful life, ooh

I want to make him want
To share his time with me
Want to spend his life with me
To share his time with me
(The baby boy is mine)
I want to make him want
Want to spend his life with me
I want to make him want
(We could spend a life together...)
I want to make him want
Want to spend his life with me
To share his time with me
(The baby boy is mine)
I want to make him want
Want to spend his life with me
To share his time with me
Ah, ah, ah... Oooh

I fall in love with you one step at a time
You fall in love with me one step at a time
You fall in love with me one step at a time, boy
I fall in love with you one step at a time...
