

Latino Twist

Misha

I'm walking in lightening of daylight intensity
Scares me a bit with a frequency of heartbeat
My heart is full of strength and insecurity
Who will take care of me?
Who will take care of me?

I get a bit uncertain
Unsure of a lot of things that I
Have been hoping for
Oh, how I wish them to come true

I start searching in my soul, in my world
I leave with nothing but hope

It took me years to realize
What you said was true, no lies
I promise you to stay as good
As I have always been in your eyes
It took me years to realize
What you said was true, no lies
I promise you to stay as good
As I have always been in your eyes

Can't twist it like God does
Can't influence my way
Can't twist it like I want
What's gonna happen today
Can't twist it like God does
Can't influence my way
Can't twist it like I want
What's gonna happen today

What's gonna happen today
What's gonna happen today
What's gonna happen today

A little space in my mind for your opinion
I hope you can forgive me
The mistakes I give you
I was ahead on my way
To make my dreams come true
Refused to take your advice
Forgot about you

Can't twist it like God does
Can't influence my way
Can't twist it like I want
What's gonna happen today
Can't twist it like God does
Can't influence my way
Can't twist it like I want
What's gonna happen today

I'm blind, I wait for you to show me the way
I'm blind, I wait for you to show me the way
I'm blind, I wait for you to show me the way
I'm blind, I wait, you show me the way

Ah ah aha ah ah ah ah ... Mmm aah mhmmm...
