

In A Serious Way

Mishka

There is more to love than ever meets the eye there are waves in my soul and tears in the sky there's a calm in my heart like the eye of a storm there's a message I'm singing to the early morn there's a need for rain when the rivers dry when the earths alone and the angels cry like water I need you to fall on me I run out of reasons to stare at the sea

I wanna get get through to you
in a serious way
oh we got so much to do
in a serious way
I'll give you love so true
'cause I wanna wake up with you everyday

there is more to love than ever meets the eye there is more to life between the earth and sky we must move to the mystic from deep inside rise up in the morning with the new sunrise there is more to love than the physical touch compassion in the art we need so much sometimes its the words sometimes its the smile letting you know I've been cool all the while

in a serious way
in a serious way
I'll give you love so true

Yeah i wanna wake up with you everyday

In a serious way
more to love
in a serious way
more to life
in a serious way
more to love
in a serious way
letting you know I've been cool all the while

in a serious way
I'll give you love so true everyday.
