

A Spark To Believe

Miss Fortune

Take me away.
It's been so long since I've been where I used to be.
There's always more going on than you can see.
So let it go, I can't remediate this obligation.

Remember?
They said I'd never be anything at all.
But look at me...

If you ever think that I'm too distant to reach, then open your heart.
Ignite the spark to believe.
And I hope you don't waste it, because you only get one.
It's your life so chase it.
One day you'll wake up, it'll be gone.

Because this breath of fresh air is all I need.
There's always others,
I promise they're not me.
I'll let it go.
I'm no one's object of misplaced affection
and I won't ever change.

Remember?
They said I'd never be anything at all.
But look at me...

If you ever think that I'm too distant to reach, then open your heart.
Ignite the spark to believe.
And I hope you don't waste it, because you only get one.
It's your life so chase it.
One day you'll wake up, it'll be gone.

And I won't ever change.

Take me away.
It's been so long since I've been where I used to be.
There's always more going on than you can see.
