

Interstate 44

Miss Fortune

You know it's not the first time you've been wrong,
I wouldn't have even strung you along
If I thought that you could be Anything but useless to me.
And I know, I must go,
For the fact that I don't belong.
Now as I'm thinking back,
Things have never been this bad before.

I gave you everything and you just threw it all away.
I left my home and all I know and you forget me.
But you make my heart race and I don't know what to do.
I'm lost in love, I'm lost in love with you.

And this interstate is taking me away
From everything that I'll ever need.
And it's killing me to say it's not the first time you've been wrong
I wouldn't have even strung you along,
If I thought that you could be anything but useless to me.

Oh, this interstate, is taking me away,
From everything, that I'll ever need,
And it's killing me to say
That I'm a mess, there's no denying anymore
There's no denying that.

I gave you everything and you just threw it all away.
I left my home and all I know and you forget me.
But you make my heart race and I don't know what to do.
I'm lost in love, I'm lost in love with you.

And this interstate is taking me away
From everything that I'll ever need.
And it's killing me to say it's not the first time you've been wrong
I wouldn't have even strung you along,
If I thought that you could be anything but useless to me.
