

We're Not In Kansas Anymore

Miss Fortune

I don't know what you've been thinking, but things have changed

That much is obvious, but what's got me oblivious is chasing this tornado, but I think I'm okay
to step out into the sunlight and let my life rearrange.
When it's clear, I'll believe everything just happens for reasons we can't explain.

I don't know what you've been thinking, but things have changed and that much is obvious.

But what's got me oblivious is the changes in the weather.
And what have I been missing out on? Why aren't we together?
Was it something I said wrong? Was it something that I did?
That made you forget the promise you made and look elsewhere?

I've been chasing this tornado, but I think I'm okay
to step out into the sunlight and let my life rearrange.
When it's clear, I'll believe everything just happens for reasons we can't explain.

So just back up these words you've been saying for so long.
And when you've got it all figured out, you'll be sorry I moved on.

I don't know what you've been thinking, but things have changed

That much is obvious, but what's got me oblivious is chasing this tornado, but I think I'm okay
to step out into the sunlight and let my life rearrange.
When it's clear, I'll believe everything just happens for reasons we can't explain.
