You said you needed some time to clean up the mess The mess in your mind And then you turned your head around And moved your hand away from mine

And I was trying to act as good as I could And I tried to look just as cute as I could be Though I could hardly breathe Is this the end of you and me?

We want out fore a walk and you was so quiet And I head myself talk Going on and on about the happy times we shared so far

How could you say you need some time to clean up the mess?
The mess in your mind
But don't you care about the mess that you just brought to me?

And I just wanna shout and scream Pleas don't leave
Is this the end of you and me?

How could you say you needed some time to clean up the mess? The mess in your mind
So don't you care about the mess that you just brought to me?

Because I just wanna shout and scream Please don't leave
Is this the end of you and me? x8

You said you needed some time And I guess this is the end..
