

Throw It In The Trash Can

Miss Li

We've got the money in the bag, Got the wallet laying flat in our hands. But we don't give a damn, You will never understand.

We don't need a preacher man We will never be a part of your plan. So take your list of demands and throw it in the trash can.

Say that we're young and that we've got no clue And all that we do is a total waste of a time. You claim that we're stupid, get back in the troop And behave like the rest, but it wants to be stuck in a time.

Consider yourself happy, but we don't think so, Throw it in the trash can.

We've got the money in the bag, Got the wallet laying flat in our hands. But we don't give a damn, You will never understand.

We don't need a preacher man We will never be a part of your plan. So take your list of demands and throw it in the trash can.

Stressed down and messed up And burned out and locked up And put up and fucked up And calling yourself a role model.

You'd rather be left out If that is the price that go riding your life On the back of the high woods, it settles.

Consider yourself happy, but we don't think so, Throw it in the trash can.

We've got the money in the bag, Got the wallet laying flat in our hands. But we don't give a damn, You will never understand.

We don't need a preacher man We will never be a part of your plan. So take your list of demands and throw it in the trash can.

We've got the money in the bag, Got the wallet laying flat in our hands. But we don't give a damn, You will never understand.

We don't need a preacher man We will never be a part of your plan. So take your list of demands and throw it in the trash can.

We've got the money in the bag, Got the wallet laying flat in our hands. But we don't give a damn, You will never understand.

We don't need a preacher man We will never be a part of your plan. So take your list of demands and throw it in the trash can