

My Inferno

Miss May I

Pacing in a cage again, starting fires in my head. No gasoline in hand. I think I'm coming off the edge.

The days past are covering me in ashes. Memories keep me connected. Every match starts a flame meant to burn. Burning stories that we will soon ignore. I let the smoke surround me, help me find who I want to be. And I got lost along the way, through the fire I escape.

Where's the flame inside of me? Cauterizing my world, scarring all my soul. Now I'm lost and drowning in doubt. Watch the clock watch it count down to my inferno. Get out, get out, come on, get out.

The days past are covering me in ashes. Memories keep me connected. Every match starts a flame meant to burn. Burning stories that we will soon ignore. I let the smoke surround me, help me find who I want to be. And I got lost along the way, through the fire I escape.

Let my smoke surround me and through the fire. I escape (my inferno surrounds me). I escape (my inferno surrounds me).
