

Hold me, see as your child
Just for this passing while
In your eyes lies my smile
Moments spent here are so fragile

Cause here we are,
Lonely Hearts,
Our scars will never heal
From war without a shield
Distance grows between the souls
Life I wanna know
No longer grows (5x)

Hold me, love me
love me like you used to do
Brought me into a world so brand new
I miss your lullaby
Sing it to myself every night
You couldn't hide from all your sorrows
Happiness is what you borrowed
Bring back these hands that were so sharp
Do you remember or has it been so long

Cause here we are
Lonely hearts
Our scars will never heal
From war without a shield
Distance grows between the souls
Life I wanna know
No longer grows (5x)

They see walls made up of sand
That fall down on your command
Hit your target
Now you'll know
Oh, My weeping willow
They have to stand alone
Oh...

Cause here we are
Lonely hearts
Our scars will never heal
From war without a shield
Distance grows between the souls
Life I wanna know,
No longer grows

No longer grows (5x)
