

Point Of Life

Misty Edwards

Remember now your creator
In the days of youth.
Remember now your creator
Before the silver cord is loosed.
For flesh will return to the darkness,
The spirit will return to God.

For all men go to eternity
And their mourners mourn in the street.
But there's more to life than just vanity.
I can see.

Knowing you is the answer to
The riddle of the point of life.
The point of life is you! It's you!
Knowing you is the reason
That I'm breathing. It's the absolute!
The point of life is you! It's you!

Many will live lives of futility
Forgetting where they began.
Many will live lives of fragility

Not knowing where they end.
Yet all men die in the end
But the end is where they begin. (possibly began)

For all men go to eternity
And their mourners mourn in the street.
Yet there's more to life than just vanity.
I can see
I can see that

Knowing you is the answer to
The riddle of the point of life.
The point of life is you! It's you!
Knowing you is the reason
That I am breathing! It's the absolute!
The point of life is you! It's you! Yeah, Yeah!
I want to love you with all I am.
I'll love my brother man, loving you,
Cause it all comes down to love.
Ooohh Looove
