

Door 2.12

Mnemonic

You can tell it to my face, but I will never know what you mean Silence triggers the adrenaline, some things are never meant to be seen

Steel plate nailed into the corner; be sure that people know wh at it means
The rooms is empty yet so full of lives, not everything is what it seems

Hesitating or speeding, it's all just a bleeding way to be Heading down the same old road, that'll lead you to the place I see

I've been there

Do you see - do you see me - do you see what I mean
Be sure that...

The sun never shines behind door 2.12
It gotta be cold behind door 2.12

Eyes closed, everything's at ease, I get to go where no one goe s when alive
If you'd seen the things I've seen you'd know that there's no w ay to survive

The sun never shines behind door 2.12
It gotta be cold behind door 2.12
This is peace of mind behind door 2.12
I feel so cold behind door 2.12

Do you see - do you see me - do you see what I mean.
