Fearless rejection Breathing with imperfection Living with imperfection Listen to me when I say That I will never get back to you You bite the hand that was feeding you Dark thoughts nailed into your fate now Dark thoughts awaiting to shine now I choose a way with no surrender I choose a way with no surrender Won't you stay away, away I quess it's not the last time Won't you stay away, away I just hope it's the last time Looking after me I need you and you need me But it seems you didn't read the information Dark thoughts nailed into my fate now Dark thoughts awaiting to shine now Keeping me calm before I explode Keeping me calm you're keeping me close You don't know my determination I'll make you feel a new sensation Won't you stay away, away I guess it's not the last time Won't you stay away, away I just hope it's the last time I need to be in control In control of myself In control of myself Fearless rejection Imperfection Won't you stay away, away I guess it's not the last time Won't you stay away, away I just hope it's the last time I need to be in control In control of myself I choose a way with no surrender I choose a way with no surrender
