Meaningless

We all seem so meaningless within our lives We all seem so meaningless within our truth I wanted to be a part of me but now We all want to be something You all want to be something But you're lost We'll never take it back cause our souls are lost Decreasing of the nation We'll never have them back cause their souls are lost Decreasing of the nation Pocketful of empty promises I know you know the way to drag us down in nothingness Spending your time in raising the masterpiece of lies That suits us fine I wanted you to be part of me but now We all want to be something You all want to be something We're lost We'll never take it back cause our souls are lost Decreasing of the nation We'll never have them back cause their souls are lost Decreasing of the nation We'll never take it back We're just a damn lost nation It goes on and on We are blind Looking for an evolution But now you're on the edge and you're about to fall down We'll never take it back cause our souls are lost Decreasing of the nation We'll never have them back cause their souls are lost Decreasing of the nation We'll never take it back We're just a damn lost nation
