

Turn My Heart to Stone

MØ

Where were you, babe, when I needed you?
All of your shit's lying on the floor
Like you were just here, but you never were here
No, you were not here
I've always been weak for your every move
Have a weird thing for the likes of you
Loves me so good, but it does me no good
No, it does me no good

I wish I could turn my heart to stone
I would be better off alone
I wish I could turn my, wish I could turn my
Wish I could let you go

(Let you go)
I don't really wanna talk about it
(Let you go)
I don't really wanna talk about it
(Let you go)
So pull me closer to the fireplace
Push it, push it, push it (Oh)
(Let you go)
I don't really wanna talk about it
(Let you go)
I don't really wanna tell you the truth
(Let you go)
So pull me closer to the fire, oh, yeah
Wish I could turn my heart to stone

Let you go fly back out the window
Let you go fly back out the window

You're always gone bettin' on your race
While I'm makin' love to the interspace
What's that on your texture?
I'm seein' red now, I'm seein' red
Where were you, babe, when I needed love?
Thought she will stay with you when I'm gone
The higher you fly, yeah, higher your fly
The harder you fall

I wish I could turn my heart to stone
I would be better off alone
I wish I could turn my, wish I could turn my
Wish I could let you go

(Let you go)
I don't really wanna talk about it
(Let you go)
I don't really wanna talk about it
(Let you go)
So pull me closer to the fireplace
Push it, push it, push it (Oh)
(Let you go)
I don't really wanna talk about it
(Let you go)
I don't really wanna tell you the truth

(Let you go)
So pull me closer to the fire, oh, yeah
Wish I could turn my heart to stone

Let you go fly back out the window
Let you go fly back out the window

Wish I could turn my heart to stone
