When You Lie

Modern Day Zero

Going back to yesterday
When everything it just seemed fine
Feeling doubt in what you say
And I should have seen the signs
But all those words got in the way
And truth was left behind
Everything is wrong now
Trust in you is gone now
I've let this go for far too long

I cannot take it when you
Lie to me
I'll only let you push me
So far
I cannot take it when you
Lie to me
It cuts me inside

You wonder where I am
And the tides have seemed to change
Black and white has turned to gray
And we're caught between the lines
I'm thinking fate got in the way
And I'm leaving you behind
Trusting you is wrong now
Everything is gone now
I've let this go for far too long

When you lie
It cuts me inside
Cuts me inside
When you lie
