

Run to You

Modern Talking

I'm sitting here, I'm lonely
In a smokey night cafe, all the guys are so happy
Baby I can see
I'm sitting here, I'm lonely
Thinking of you, girl, all this sweet sweet memories
We built a better world
When will I see you again, baby let me be your man
Tell me that you miss me, my sweet baby
I won't cry for yesterday, baby come and hear me say
Tell me, do I have a chance, my love?

I will run to you, I will kiss the rain
Make your dreams come true, if I have you back again
I will run to you, everyday and night
Give you all my heart, want to have you by my side

I'm sitting here, I'm lonely
Catch a falling star, when you're there the sky is bluer
But you are so far
I'm sitting here, I'm lonely
Can't trust your pretty face, maybe you were telling lies
I saw you in this place
When will I see you again, baby let me be your man
Tell me that you miss me, my sweet baby
I won't cry for yesterday, baby come and make my day
Tell me do I have a chance, my love
