

Don't Anyone Make Love At Home Anymore

Moe Bandy

Of all the love affairs to die I wagered yours and mine
Would live to hear the golden chimes of time
But risking you led me into a world of cheatin' fools
A world that turned my heart away from you.

Don't anyone make love at home anymore
Does everyone possess a yearn to cheat
Don't anyone make love at home anymore
Has everyone become a fool like me.

The crowd that I'm a part of now don't care what's right or wrong
Just choose the one you want and get it on
Nobody knows for sure who cheats or who's been staying true
Cause no one knows just who belongs to who.

Don't anyone make love at home anymore
Does everyone possess a yearn to cheat
Don't anyone make love at home anymore
Has everyone become a fool like me.

Has everyone become a fool like me...
