

Somewhere There's A Woman

Moe Bandy

Somewhere there's a woman who needs me tonight
And I know where to find her where the lights shine so bright
She'll be sitting at the table with a chair that's left for me
Somewhere there's a woman who needs all of me.

I thought I had a woman who's love was mine alone
But sometimes love was blinding it's so hard to see the wrong
Her lips were warm and tender but now they're cold as can be
Somewhere there's a woman who needs all of me.

Someone's been neglected like me
Who's felt the hand of pain and misery
Who's dreams have been shattered just like mine
Somewhere there's a woman who needs all of me.

Somewhere there's a woman who needs me tonight
And I know where to find her where the lights shine so bright
Somewhere there's a woman who needs all of me...
