Way, way, way did I let her go You wanna be the light when it's burning low Only miss the Sun when it's starts to snow Only know you love her when you let her go You only know you'll be high when you'll feel alone Only hate the road when you miss her holds Only know you love her when you let her go Why did I let her go? Why did I let her go? Ai-ai-ai-ai I try to go back to figure out why it's over You and me together, though the world and see ' You wanna be the light when it's burning low Only miss the Sun when it's starts to snow Only know you love her when you let her go You only know you'll be high when you'll feel alone Only hate the road when you miss her holds Only know you love her when you let her go Yes I try to do better, better then the men before me We should think what we'll do cuz the love don't come easy Girl you and me together , we're nothing that the world had see ever You wanna be the light when it's burning low

Only miss the Sun when it's starts to snow Only know you love her when you let her go You only know you'll be high when you'll feel alone Only hate the road when you miss her holds Only know you love her when you let her go Try to make the right cuz I can make you, make you right I can't make you right without you baby by my side Try to make the right cuz I can make you, make you right I can't make you right without you baby by my side I try to make the right cuz I can make you, make you right I can't make you right without my baby by my side Try to make the right cuz I can make you, make you right You wanna be the light when it's burning low Only miss the Sun when it's starts to snow Only know you love her when you let her go But I don't need a light when it's burning too slow I don't need the Sun when it's start to snow All I need it's you and I can't let you go
