

Better Than You

Moist

Ive sold out every memory I have borrowed
I had bought from you
These pictures run like water to dilute me
Lay me over you

And I thought that this would be so right

And everyone and everyone
Is better than you

Ive felt each slow perversion fosters
Dying killed the truth in me
Gone quietly gone completely cold reminder what
You tried to be

And I knew that this would be so right

And everyone and everyone
Is better than you

And it's hard and it's hated
And it's hard
And if so and if so

And everyone and everyone
Is better than you
