

Rule the World

Moke

The moonlight in my eyes
Works wonders, you got me in your spell
Now we've made a pact, it's a fact, i don't know if It's heaven or it's hell.

These words I have written in my mind
I knew it all along, can't stop it's so strong.

You have walked with kings
Made them fall down at your feet
The purest of a heart, you can stop,
You can steal, for they must admit defeat.

A simple seed on which our love's been sown
I'm timber for the flames
As I learn to play your games.

You and I we are beautiful
Together we're gonna rule the world
You and I we are beautiful
Together...we're gonna rule the world.

You cover up the light, just like you never take the blame
Wer'e whispering, whispering, whispering, whispering your name.

A simple seed on which your love's been sown
I't's rotten to the core, and still we all want more.
