

A Drop in the Ocean

Moloko

I feel like a drop in the ocean
Just a ripple on expanding seas
If a shoe fits I swear it I will wear it
By the shining stiletto I do decree

I'm half full and my glass is empty
Say so long and wave goodbye

I've been searching for new ways to get lost
There's got to be someplace somewhere I'll never be found
I can fend for myself can pretend to myself
I will play the wild rover though my horse may be blind

I'm half full and my glass is empty
Same so lonely and wave goodbye
All the binds that tie are there for a reason
You won't fond my prairies it's folly to try
