

Insurrection

Molotov Solution

It has been ten years since the descent began, the most recent chapter, 100 years into their master plan.

It has been ten years since the towers fell, in a free fall economy, integrated into a man-made hell.

Congruency cannot be questioned.

A closer look depicts codes of deception.

All our freedoms are stripped away.

This fascist regime has risen from the fucking grave.

We're not the only ones that see behind closed doors, you can't hide anymore.

We're not the soul-

less ones who brought upon this war, you can't hide anymore.

It has been our fear, since they conceived their plan, that all owed them to become our masters, what is it that you don't understand?

It has been our fear since the election, taking the power from the people, reminiscent to a planned insurrection.

The difference between us and you is that you're killing innocents and we're killing you.

We'll bring you to justice, just like the governments you are toppling you will fall, you will follow them to the ground.

We will watch you fall.

It's time for a new page to be written, not in ink or concrete, but with your blood.

A new age will begin with your end.

We're not the only ones that see behind closed doors, you can't hide anymore.

We're not the soul-

less ones who brought upon this war, you can't hide anymore.

We won't change for this world; we'll change this world for us.

We won't change for this world; we'll change this world for us.

Fuck your world.

You can have it.

Fuck your world.

You can have it.

The difference between us and you is that you're killing innocents and we're killing you.

We'll bring you to justice and just like the governments you are toppling you will fall, you will follow them to the ground.

We will watch you fall.