

A Life Apart

Monaco

Lose myself in broken dreams.
Twisting round and round inside my mind.
They take me to a better place.
Where I can watch the world go slowly by.
And I wonder why the tears in my eyes.
Come tumbling down, down, down.
They fall to the earth for what its worth.
Without a sound, sound, sound.
Falls without a sound.

Walking down a busy street.
I'm staring at the people passing by.
I don't care what they think of me.
'cause they don't ever look me in the eyes.
And I wonder why the tears in my eyes.
Come tumbling down, down, down.
They fall to the earth for what its worth.
Without a sound, sound, sound.
Falls without a sound.

Suddenly you're not alone.
You're coming home, coming home.
Suddenly you're not alone.
You're coming home, coming home.
Suddenly you're not alone.
You're coming home, coming home.
Suddenly you're not alone.
You're coming home, coming home.
